Co-Brother Hero of the Month:

Braden Vogt

Braden is a junior from West Linn, Oregon. He is studying Biology with a focus in Pre-Med, with aspirations of becoming an Orthopedic Surgeon after intensive schooling. Braden serves as one of our Recruitment Chairmen, and played a large role in helping recruit our new freshman. He stays involved in the community by tutoring at the College Hill Academy (an alternative high school option), as well as coaching a youth flag football team. Thanks for all your hard work Braden, Phi Alpha!

Co-Brother Hero of the Month:

Chad Casebeer

Chad is from Salem, Oregon and is also a junior at Oregon State. He serves as our other Recruitment Chairman and was also a leading factor in the success of our chapter's recruitment this year. Chad is studying Biology with a focus in Pre-Dental, and one day hopes to open his own dental practice. He always finds a way to stay involved, whether that be serving as a Sing coach or being a valuable member on the OSU Mock Trial team. From all of us here at SAE, Phi Alpha Chad!

Fall Recruitment and Formal Initiation

Oregon Alpha SAE solidified 51 freshmen on Jump Day, one of the biggest classes recruited in our chapter's history!

It was a busy summer for our Recruitment Chairs this year, but an even busier fall for our chapter as a whole. Over the summer break we had several recruitment events; including 7-on-7 football tournaments, backyard barbeques, and even a weekend camping trip outside of Detroit Lake in Oregon. Rush week was upon us before we knew it. The freshman moved to Corvallis at the end of September and we had 5 days of Fall Recruitment to invite men to join our fraternity. On October 1st, we had the honor of jumping 51 guys at Jump Day – an Oregon State Greek Life tradition. The following day, we formally initiated the new members, and welcomed them into our chapter. The new members come from up and down the west coast - from Seattle and the way to San Francisco!
